How to get from the airport to the city centre in Prague? Quick, easy and cheap option – Use Public transport in Prague. Watch the video bellow:

<https://youtu.be/57WeRN0Nrb4>

Video on the link is from the Youtube channel Honest Guide, focused on the provision of valuable local information for tourists with the special attention how to avoid tourist traps, that are in Prague - as well as in any major city.

Short – term tickets for travelling around Prague:

All the information about tickets can be found here:

<https://pid.cz/en/for-tourists/what-ticket-should-i-use/>

You can either buy your ticket in the ticket machines, or you can download the PID Litacka app and buy your tickets there:

PID Lítačka \(pidlitacka.cz\)

Don't forget to validate your ticket before the use of public transport!!!!

2. Taxi

In addition to public transport, the services of the companies Uber (Uber Airport available), Lifago and Bolt are also very popular in Prague (AppStore or Google Play). If you prefer taxi as the way of transfer from the airport, we recommend to use Airport taxis or one of the above mentioned Apps. Please do not catch taxis on the street - prices per km may vary.

Taxi from the Vaclav Havel International Airport to the Hotel Absolutum will take approx. 15-25 minutes depending on the traffic. Cost of the taxi will be approx. 500 – 800 CZK (22-35 USD or 20-32 EUR).

How to get to UJV Řež, a. s. from the Masarykovo nádraží:

The easiest and fastest way is to take train that goes directly to the Řež. The train from Praha-Masarykovo nádraží to Řež takes approximately 21 minutes.

The travel ticket can be bought directly on the train from the train conductor and costs 50 Czech crowns (one way) or in the PID Litacka app (mentioned above). Train goes usually every 30 minutes. Timetables can be found on the website <https://www.dpp.cz/en>.

After you get off the train at Řež station, cross the river and the UJV Řež, a. s. will be located on the left side.
